

New York, 9 April, 1863.

Dear Garrison,

40 I send you the numbers of the Principia you want, with the exception of one, which the publisher could not furnish. Perhaps you may be able to get that in some other way.

Theodore Weld called here yesterday, and I communicated to him the wish of the Ex. Com. that he should speak at our Tuesday morning meeting. He seemed quite willing to do so, but feared that the ^{unsettled} condition of his family might make it inconvenient if not impossible. His plans for the future are not yet settled, and he is apprehensive that he may be under the necessity of accompanying his invalid son to a Water-cure, or some other place, for treatment, at the very time of our meeting.

I think you would do well to write him at Perth Amboy, entreating ^{him} if possible, to make his arrangements in such a way as not to interfere with our meeting. It seems to me very important that he should speak for us.

Yours, affectionately,

Oliver Johnson,

My dear friend
I have just received your letter and am very glad to hear from you.
I am well and hope this finds you the same.

Yours truly,
John Smith
